In his latest artworks, multi award winner Tony Windberg takes the viewer further down the illusory path. These multi-dimensional, wall-mounted constructs change with shifting viewpoints: flat surfaces appear curved, curved become flat. The intricately engraved marks on imitation wood vinyl recall printmaking techniques - woodcuts, lino-prints, and engraved reproductions. Through the veneer of vegetation near the artist's studio in Northcliffe in South West WA, are seen clearings and the monoculture of blue gum plantations. These constructed scenes invite the viewer to question the nature of illusion and the illusion of Nature.
